Clearfield Lodge No. 198 History of Events

Oddfellowship in America had its beginning as early as 1802 and 1806 and others after the War of 1812 but did not live long, until Thomas Wildley and John Welch called together three other former members of the British Order in the City of Baltimore and organized the first Independent Order of Odd-Fellows on April 26th, 1819, and instituted Washington Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F.

Time and space will not allow us to give a complete history of Clearfield Lodge No. 198 I. O. O. F. but we will endeavor to give you some of the important events that have transpired during the Century just passed.

The record shows that on August 17th, 1846 the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania granted to John L. Cuttle, a member of Mechanics Lodge No. 9 of Pittsburgh, Ashley M. Hills, Charles R. Foster, Daniel Livingston and William T. Gilbert, petitioners, a Charter to institute a lodge in Clearfield, Pa.

On October 8th, 1846 in accordance with the authority vested in him, by the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, John Hamilton, District Deputy Grand Master of the Juniata-Mifflin District, together with Joseph Sourbeck and Willis McCord arrived in Clearfield to perform the duties assigned to them by the Grand Lodge.

"Let us reflect for a moment just what a journey of this kind meant one hundred years ago. No railroads, so the distance would naturally have to be covered by Stage Coach from Lewistown to Tyrone, then to Philipsburg by another stage route, and then to Clearfield by still another stage or by horseback. At least a three day's journey in those days, whereas same could be made in that many hours today."

On the afternoon of October 8th, 1846, the lodge was duly instituted and the officers selected to serve the lodge until the end of the term.

The officers were: John L. Cuttle, Noble Grand; Charles M. Foster, Vice Grand; Ashley M. Hills, Secretary; Daniel Livingston, Assistant Secretary, and William T. Gilbert, Treasurer. This meeting was held in a Tavern operated by John Flegal, afterwards known as the Mansion House, which stood on the corner of Second and Market Streets, where the modern Dimeling Hotel stands today.

The evening meeting held on the same day six applications were received, duly elected and initiated and all degrees conferred upon them, thus making the Charter membership eleven. The names of the ones admitted at this meeting were: M. A. Frank, John Flegal, C. Harnish, William J. Hemphill, James T. Leonard and Benjamin Hartshorne.

At meetings held regularly in the months following, Trustees were elected, By-Laws adopted and other important business transacted thereby laying the foundation upon which a structure has been built that has stood in the community of Clearfield as a monument for good, during the Century.

Our lodge has the distinction of being the first fraternal order in the County, and the parent of the lodges instituted later in Clearfield and neighboring counties. Some of these lodges are Brookville, Curwensville, and Penfield still in existence, and many other lodges now non-existent.

Our meeting places have been in the Tavern of John Flegal, thence to a room owned by R. Shaw, and from there to a building of O. B. Merrill (site of the Ritz Theatre), and thence to the Jas. B. Graham building on Second and Market Streets (corner occupied by the County National Bank), and in 1871 moved into another building owned by Jas. B. Graham, later purchased by A. M. Hills, the building we now own, purchased from the Hills Estate in 1898, two years after the death of Bro. A. M. Hills.

Let us go back to the day of the birth of our Lodge, when the rooms were heated by a wood burning stove, tallow candles at 50c per lb. were used for lighting, and the quill pen used by these pioneers, who subscribed to the same rules and obligations we all have subscribed to, then to the time when kerosene, $1.62½ a gal., was used for light, coal for fuel and the steel pen replaced the quill to the next period when steam heat was installed, gas lights and more modern furniture bought, to the present when we enjoy all the modern conveniences of the twentieth century and we can see that we have progressed with the times.

We as a lodge have experienced four Wars during our existence and are sorry that records were not kept during the Civil and Spanish American Wars, that we will not be able to give you accurately the names of our members that should be on the Honor Roll, but we can proudly say that we have one member of the 1898 conflict still living, Bro. William Jordan of 712 Turnpike Ave., Clearfield, Pa.

We present our Honor Rolls of World Wars I and II on pages 6 and 7.

We are proud of the fact that our lodge records from the very beginning have been preserved almost intact and we are able to give the names of all the brothers who have served as Noble Grand from the day of our institution up to our present Noble Grand, R. Clair Henschbarger. We present our complete roll of Past Noble Grands on pages 15 and 16.

We also wish to pay honor to the two outstanding founders of our lodge, who facing public opinion, which about this time was opposed to secret organizations, churches were not in favor and the wives were as a rule against their husbands holding membership, but not withstanding all the opposition went ahead with their plans until today we can proudly revere the names of John L. Cutle, who had previously taken the obligations of our order in his home lodge in Pittsburgh, and who served as our first Noble Grand and was active all through the 42 years he held membership in our lodge.

The other, Ashley M. Hills who also was a Charter member of our lodge and was active all through the years and made it possible through his will for our lodge to acquire our present property. Bro. Hills died in 1896 just 50 years after he had joined. (Our Rebekah lodge was named Lady Hills in honor of Bro. Hills.)

Space will not permit us to mention any more names of those who helped us make it possible to exist all through the century as an organization but we are proud of the fact that, we are what we are, and endeavoring to follow out the teachings of our beloved order, that of Friendship, Love and Truth, and supporting every worthwhile movement outside of our lodge circle

As we look back into the past we see that three generations have already come through our portals and our sincere hope is that many more will continue to keep up the good work of nursing the sick, relieving the distressed, burying the dead and educating the orphans until time shall be no more.

REV. W. E. PRESTON HAAS, Grand Master

Congratulations to the Clearfield Lodge of Odd Fellows.

A century of outstanding Christian service to mankind in your community is a really great contribution. A rich heritage is greatly to be cherished, but a bright future is also to be desired. You have one, I wish for you the other.

May the vision and venture that characterized the noble success of your forefathers be yours in order that you may serve this Twentieth Century with distinction to yourselves and a credit to Odd-Fellowship.

With all good wishes,

W. E. PRESTON HAAS, Grand Master.

FRANK SHANNON, P. G. M.

To the Officers and Members of Clearfield Lodge No. 198, I. O. O. F.

Greetings:

One of the greatest privileges accorded Odd Fellows is that of making "new" and keeping "old" friends.

It has been my pleasure to enjoy the hospitality of Clearfield Lodge No. 198, I. O. O. F., on many occasions during the past twenty-nine years, and I have learned to regard its membership most highly and count among them some of my closest friends.

It is with pleasure therefore that I congratulate the Lodge upon reaching its One Hundredth Birthday, and express to you my appreciation of the courtesies extended and the hospitality enjoyed.

I know full well that the Lodge has exerted great influence for good in its community, and I sincerely trust it may so continue for many more years.

Sincerely and fraternally yours,

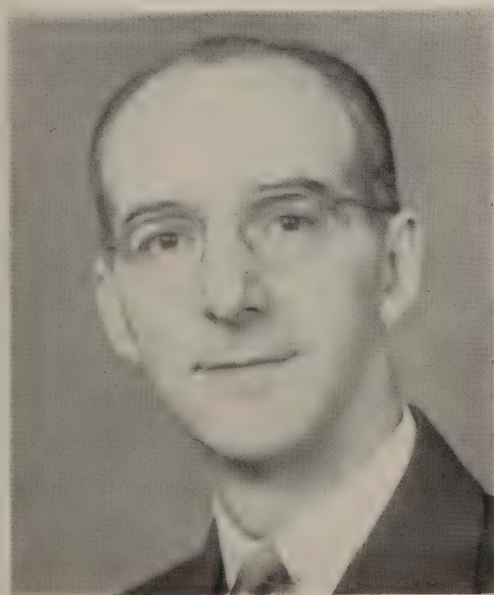

FRANK SHANNON

Synopsis of Clearfield's Growth

With Our Lodge in 100 Years

Clearfield is the oldest town, and the first borough, to be incorporated in the county. Although laid out in 1805, it was not incorporated until April 21, 1840, when the Legislature, in an omnibus bill, resolved "That Clearfield Town, in the County of Clearfield, shall be and the same is hereby erected into a borough under the name and title of Clearfield Borough." Its limits have been several times enlarged and extended, so that today it includes much additional territory, taken from Lawrence Township—and the borough of West Clearfield.

An important Pennsylvania industrial and mining center, Clearfield is surrounded by productive farming communities.

Chief industries of Clearfield include fire brick, sewer pipe, clay machinery, textiles, sole leather, school supplies, calendars, clothing, electronics and many others. The leading source of agricultural revenue is dairy farming, with potato growing second and poultry raising third.

Clearfield has 2,400 homes, 75 per cent of which are owned by the occupants; 20 miles of streets, the majority of which are paved; 40 miles of water mains; 16 miles of sewers and 12 miles of gas mains.

Three railroads connect Clearfield with the rest of the nation. Three highways, U. S. Routes 322, and state highways 153 and 879 bring tourists from all sections of the United States.

Points of interest in and around Clearfield include:

Armory—built on a hill overlooking the borough, this modern structure is the headquarters of the Pennsylvania State Guard, Clearfield unit.

Churches—Clearfield has 15 churches, representing nine denominations.

Clearfield Driving Park—Scene of the annual County and Industrial Exposition, the park is situated on the West Side and affords facilities for athletic events in all seasons of the year.

Clearfield Memorial Hospital—Located on Turnpike avenue, is a two story hospital, containing 126 beds and the Swoope Maternity Unit, constructed in 1929 has accommodations for 30 patients.

Fire Department—Four fire companies with 650 active volunteer members, give Clearfield adequate fire protection.

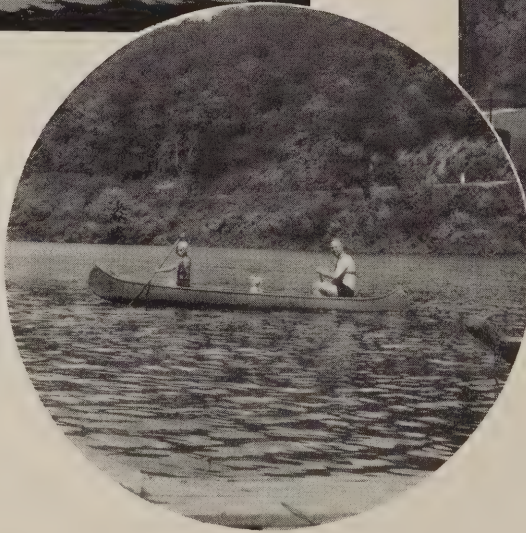

Schools—Seven modern public school buildings and one parochial school provides Clearfield with a fine educational system. The enrollment in the public and parochial schools totals more than 3,000, with over 100 men and women on the faculty.

Views In and Around Clearfield

ABOVE—Clearfield High School has an excellent record for scholastic and athletic achievement. In addition to many note-worthy graduates, it has had in recent years champion teams in football, wrestling, golfing, baseball.

RIGHT—Canoeing for adventure—canoe trips down the old lumber raft route between Clearfield and Lock Haven on the west branch of the Susquehanna, furnish adventure and pleasure.

Clearfield County Court House—Clearfield, the county seat of Clearfield County, was founded in 1805, and incorporated April 21, 1840. It is the oldest town and was the first borough to be established in the county.

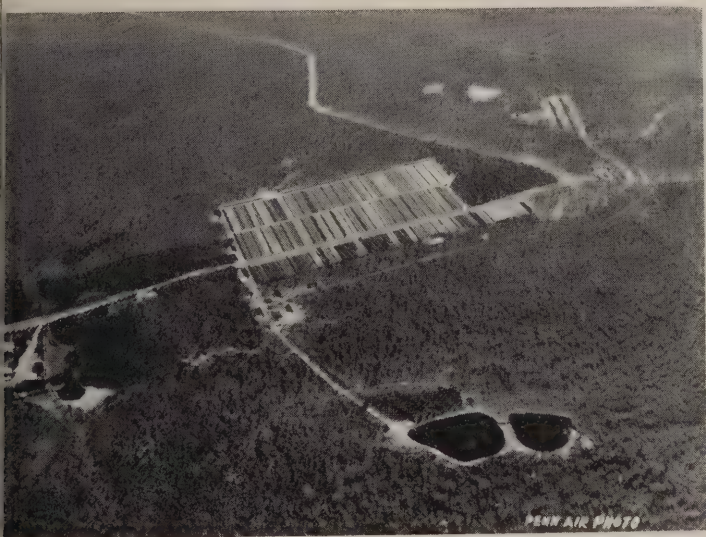

Clearfield-Curwensville Country Club offers the golfer a splendid course amidst picturesque surroundings.

RIGHT—Aerial view of the Clearfield Driving Park and Fair Grounds, showing the well kept ½ mile race track, football field, baseball field, tennis courts, grandstand seating 3300, and fair buildings. Clearfield County Fair is rated among the first six largest County Fairs in Pennsylvania.

LEFT—Aerial view of the Clearfield forest tree nursery, the largest conifer nursery east of the Mississippi river. Note: This photograph also shows the adjacent Elliott State Park and a small part of the thousand acres of deer woods and game cover which has made Clearfield a famous hunting center.

RIGHT—View of the cabins and accommodations available to the outdoor lover, the hunter, the fisherman, the hiker and the picnicker at S. B. Elliott State Recreational Park, at the top of the Penfield mountain, 8 miles from Clearfield. Tennis, band concerts and other means of recreation are at the disposal of the public.

ABOVE—Forest clad hills around Clearfield make good grouse cover and supply the bird dog lover with fine sport.

25th Anniversary of the Lady Hills

MRS. ERMA MULLEN
Noble Grand

Lady Hills Rebekah Lodge No. 520, named in honor of Ashley M. Hills, a charter member of Clearfield I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 198 and the first secretary, also owner of the present location, was instituted October 6, 1921 by Elva G. Morrow, Grand Warden of the Rebekah Assembly, with 91 Charter members, 67 Sisters and 24 Brothers.

The institution meeting was held in the afternoon on the above date. At the evening session the following officers were elected and installed:

Della Ogden Noble Grand
Alice Barrett Vice Grand
Helen Smith Secretary
Blanche Fleming ... Treasurer

The Rebekah Degree was conferred on those not present at the institution by the Degree Team from Osceola Mills, Pennsylvania.

Since the institution, the degree has been conferred on several of whom a few retain membership at the present time. Four have served as District Deputy Presidents. Two have received appointments in the Rebekah Assembly. One served on the Reception Committee of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania for the Reception of Sovereign Grand Lodge Officer at its session in Philadelphia during the Sesqui-Centennial, 1926, and two have received the Decoration of Chivalry.

The Lodge has contributed $275.00 to the Meadville Orphans' Home in addition to the regular contribution to the Rebekah Home and local welfare organizations.

Our first District Deputy President was instrumental in organizing a Past Noble Grand Association on February 12, 1925 with a membership of 50. This Association has continued to grow and has attained a membership of 130.

We join with the members of I. O. O. F. No. 198 in their celebration by observing our Twenty-fifth Anniversary.

Views In and Around Clearfield

ABOVE—Typical thumb-nail views of the natural beauty of the country side in and around Clearfield. Note near upper right hand corner, the Elliott State Park outdoor amphitheater with the only band shell for concert presentations in any of the Pennsylvania State Parks, and near the lower right hand corner, the new Federal Armory with the Municipal Airport adjoining. Near upper left hand corner, views of Parker Dam State Park, ideal for swimming, boating and fishing.

Recreation in Clearfield is not restricted to summer sports; the many hills make it a "natural" for skiing, tobogganing, and sled-riding; ice-skating on the frozen Susquehanna is another popular winter pastime.

Clearfield has the best in hotel and restaurant accommodations, also has many first class tourist homes, three theatres and many other civic institutions.
